CITY NEWS.

John Shaw, drunk and disorderly conduct, Heard and $100 for two months.

Wm. McAlister, drunk. Heard and fined $5.

R. L. Vessels, drunk and disorderly conduct. Fined 5.

Martin Belner, Peter Belner, Jr., and Peter Belner, sr., shooting and killing Gottlieb Wagner; Martin and Peter, Jr., held in $1,000 each, and Peter, sr., in $500, to answer at the circuit court.

REFUGEES FAIR.—Though the weather presented a great many persons from visiting the Fair last night, there was a very large crowd present, and every one present seemed to enjoy the evening very much. A great many persons were strangers, who contributed very liberally. As there are a great many ladies and children who have been unable to attend, the lady managers have contributed to the Fair open this afternoon for their benefit, and we hope the hall will be crowded. To-night is the last night, and we appeal to all our citizens and strangers generally to go to the Fair and do all they can towards aiding the ladies in their good work. Go and contribute all you can, and we promise that you will not regret having contributed any amount to the Fair for the benefit of helpless refugees.

ARREST OF A GUERRILLA IN THE CITY.—About 7 o'clock last evening officers Joel Lambourne and Thomas Antle arrested at Brown's Hotel, on Jefferson street, opposite the jail, a man whose name we did not learn, on the charge of being a horse thief and a guerrilla. He had within the past few days stolen three horses from West Point, which were brought to this city and disposed of. After his arrest he acknowledged that he had belonged to one of the numerous bands of guerrillas which have operated in the neighborhood of Salt River.

HORSE VOUCHERS.—The following vouchers for horses impressed by the government are ready for delivery at the Provost Marshal's office, in charge of Captain J. M. Carter: Cassell & McAlister, Erwin, Bell, Conrad & Sahl, H. Bremer, H. Clute, J. T. B. Durbin, Daniel Heybeck, H. W. Koehler, Michael Lapp, James & Ross, John Heck, E. D. Sterckard, Moordorff & Co., George Miller, George Off, E. G. Minor, H. C. Seymour, James P. Secor, Charles Smith, Adam Sawyer, A. Sebie, J. A. Rider and John "scattered."

RETAIL DRY GOODS STOCK AND FIXTURES FOR SALE.—Messrs. Mark & Dows, corner of Fourth and Jefferson streets, in Masonic building, offer their stock of dry goods and fixtures for sale. They have been most successful business men, and their stand is very desirable for a retail business. To any one desiring to engage in the retail dry goods business, or to one more especially, who wishes to secure a first class location, we refer the establishment of Messrs. Mark & Dows.

DANGEROUS.—The walls of the Galt House are still standing, and are liable to fall at almost any moment, perhaps causing the death of one or more persons who may be passing. It would be a good idea to pull the walls down and clear the rubbish off the sidewalks, as persons are compelled, under present circumstances, to go out into the muddy streets to get along. Let the walls be pulled down and the pavements be cleared.

BARRACKS NO. 1.—Business was quite active at the barracks yesterday. One hundred convalescents arrived from various places, one hundred and four men arrived from Springfield, and five hundred and fifty two from Nashville; one hundred and seventy-one were sent to Nashville, twenty-five to Cairo, fifteen to Springfield, seventeen to St. Louis, seventeen to Detroit, and thirty-five to Indianapolis.

There is nothing like military aristocracy. We heard yesterday of an orderly in this city who cannot go to the post office or after his dinner without being mounted upon his steed and followed by a buck nigger upon another one. He visits his lady love occasionally, much to the pride and pleasure of the young lady, but not so much so to the negro, who sits outside shivering in the cold.

Annie Pate was sent here from Nashville some time ago, and she was sent north of the Ohio river. Annie found her way back to Nashville some how or other, and was sent back here. Yesterday the Provost Marshal sent her over the river, with orders to "stay there this time for good."

There was another fine opening for a clothe shop in the window of Messrs. Trott & Clegg's music store, on Fourth street. It has not been occupied since this city. Stop and look at them if you pass that way.

SENT BACK.—E. G. Scruggs, conductor on the East Tennessee and Virginia railroad, whom we made mention a few days ago, was forwarded to Nashville yesterday by order of Governor Johnson.

DESERTERS.—Twenty-two deserters from the rebel army arrived here night before last from Nashville. Capt. Jones furnished them with transportation yesterday to points north.

About two hundred and fifty-five men have already deserted from the draft in Meade county; one hundred and thirty-one from Nelson county; twenty-five from Larue county; one hundred and ninety-one from Harlan county; fifteen from Whitley county; twenty-eight from Madison county; eighteen from Perry county; one hundred and two from Wayne county; and ninety-seven from Hardin county—making a total of six hundred and seven men, most of whom are supposed to have gone off and joined the rebel army under General Lyon when he was in this state.

THE Cosmopolitan Gift Book Store, which is permanently located at 210 Fourth street, offer their large and beautiful stock of family Bibles and photograph albums at greatly reduced prices. A gift accompanies each Bible and album worth from fifty cents to one hundred dollars.

S. W. understand that from this date they will discontinue publishing the names of fortunate purchasers.

THE Soldier's Chapel, just erected by the United States Christian Commission on Seventh street, near Main, will be opened with appropriate delectory services next Sabbath, at 10 o'clock A. M. Soldiers and citizens are cordially invited to attend.

There are two very fine oil paintings on exhibition in the window of Messrs. Trott & Clegg's music store, on Fourth street. They were painted by a gentleman in this city. Stop and look at them if you pass that way.

THE New York Ledger, at the residence of the bride's father, Jas. G. Moore, 100 W. 23d street, Mrs. John A. Lyons, of Mt. Washington, Ky., and Miss S. M. W. were married yesterday.
